(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)

RUSSIA, Dec. 17.—The entire kingdom of Belgium mourns its departed ruler, Leopold II. Court schools and theaters are closed. Public memorial and a municipal council have been convened at half-mast.

Meanwhile a tremendous contest over the King's will is threatened, and the status of the Baroness Vaughan is not determined.

Affairs of the nation are in the con trol of the Cabinet until Prince Albert takes the oath of succession next Thursday, the day after the funeral.

An official decree issued today bars King Leopold's career and declares his creation of the Congo Independent State was unique in history.

"Posterity will judge Leopold a great king with a grand reign," it says.

WILL CONTEST PROMISED.

The body of Leopold remains in the mortuary chamber of "The Palais."
Tomorrow night it will be removed to the palace in Brussels.

The filing of the will of King Leo pold today shows that he divided $1,000,000 between his three daughters, Princess Louise, Princess Stephanie and Princess Clementine. This local distribution follows the general distribution of a gigantic land battle to obtain the throne, which was similar to that which ensued on the death of their mother.

The exact amount of Leopold's for tune probably never will be revealed.
Senator Winer, the King's friend and confidential legal adviser, told the As sociated Press today that Leopold turned over a large portion of it to the Baroness Vaughan and her child ren and created a stock company of his estates to forestall a possible raid upon it by the Princesses Louise and Stephanie or their creditors.

Senator Winer said that later, per haps, large portions of the estate would be given to Belgium. The Princess Clementine, aside from be quests she will receive, is provided for by a special income from Congo property.

NO QUESTION OF SUCCESSION.

Investigation shows that the right of the succession to the throne of a child of the King by the Baroness Vaughan is not worthy of serious at tention. It is pointed out by Senator Winer that if there were only a reli gious ceremony, laws of the kingdom would prevent the accession of a child of such a union. The Senator, how ever, does not believe there was even a religious marriage.

If it is established that the Baroness
Vaughan is of foreign birth she prob ably will be expelled from Belgium, like the favorite of Leopold I, the Baroness Mayer, whose house was attacked and destroyed by a mob after the King's death.

Under the Belgian law a parent is not permitted to bequeath more than a quarter of his belongings away from his children and reports are cur rent tonight that counsel for Princess Louise in attempting to have the seals affixed is due to her belief that valuable property belonging to King
Leopold is in the villa of the Bar oness.

REGENCY COUNCIL.

Dr. Thiriar said today: "I know that the King was suffering from a malady of the heart. This was our chief anxiety when operating, but we decided to resort to surgery in order to save His Majesty from terrible suf fering. As a matter of fact, he died without suffering at all."

Immediately following Leopold's death, two pums laid out the body and preparations for conveying it to the city proper were made. The obsequies will take place at the Collegiate Church of St. Gudula.

This morning early Premier Schol sart proceeded to the palace, and under his direction the official bulletin published a special number, announc ing the formation of a regency coun cil composed of Council and Ministers, which will nominally hold the reins of government until the heir to the throne, Prince Albert, has taken the oath of ascension.

This forenoon M. J. Davignon, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, officially notified the sovereigns and chiefs of State of Europe of the death of Leo pold II, King of the Belgians. Tele grams of condolence were received early from King Edward and Queen Alexandra, Emperor William, King Al
fonso, Emperor Francis Joseph, King
Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helene, President Fallières of France, and

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch] From the Texas Panhandle and as far west and south as El Paso snow is falling tonight and is being blown across the prairies in a regular blizzard.

The storm commenced late this afternoon in slight flurries, but increased in intensity, with a sudden drop in the thermometer. By the time the fifth race at the Juarez, Mex., track the ponies went around the course in a genuine "back East" snowstorm, and it was difficult for the scattering crowd to distinguish them. The intense cold caused many to leave the course.

At Ancho, N. M., three inches of snow is reported. The storm is causing much suffering among the poor people hereabouts because of lack of protection and fuel.

This action was taken today as the result of a telegram received from the United States Consul at Managua, stating that, inasmuch as Zelaya in his message requested the President had made unpleasant reference to Americans, and owing to a report current in that city that civilian adherents of Zelaya had been armed with daggers, citizens of the United States there had appealed to the consulate for protection.

One item of business that received the attention of the Navy Department today that may have been fraught with significance, was an order for the immediate shipment of a consignment of ball cartridges to the Des Moines, which is on the east coast of Nicaragua.

Another telegram from the American consulate at Managua says that it is currently rumored there that when Madriz arrives in Managua, presumably tomorrow, Zelaya will formally surrender his office to the National Assembly and that that body already has received instructions from Zelaya to cast his vote for him. President of Nicaragua. While rumor is directly associated with the understanding that Madriz would receive the support not only of Zelaya himself, but of the nation.

ZELAYA STILL DOMINANT.

The conclusion of the United States consul at Managua is that, by the action of Iris, Zelaya would still be in power.

Zelaya's change of front is a matter of no surprise here, it being known that both Iris and Madriz have long been regarded as Zelaya's willing tools

WASHINGTON.

TO END WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.Bill Planned to Inflict Heavy Penalties.*Ten Years Is to Be Maximum Imprisonment.*States Urged to Pass Like Legislation.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—A bill aiming at the suppression of the "white-slave traffic" and imposing imprisonment and heavy fine for any person importing women into the country for immoral purposes, or harboring them after their arrival here, was reported out of the Immigration Committee yesterday.

The measure is a substitute for the two bills introduced by Representatives Bennett and Sabath, and is intended to cover the grounds of the bill prepared by Chairman Mann of the Interstate Commerce Committee.

A maximum penalty of ten years' imprisonment and a fine of $5000 is provided for violations.

The bill also covers the interstate traffic.

The white-slave bill introduced by Chairman Mann was considered at today's meeting of Mr. Mann's committee, but was not acted upon. The committee will meet again tomorrow. Advocates of the bill believe that one or two of the opposition are weakening.

Committees of the Immigration Committee that it and the Interstate Commerce Committee has jurisdiction were brought up at today's meeting of the Commerce Committee, but it was claimed that the bill is no way related to the Immigration Committee of its prerogatives.

In his report Mr. Howell, chairman of the immigration committee, expressed the opinion that the measure will largely fulfill the duty and meet the opportunity of the national government toward these infamous practices.

The report recommends additional legislation by States and the District of Columbia along lines of the Illinois law. The substitute bill is changed from the original immigration committee bill so as to apply to "persons who are imported by or receive proceeds of prostitution."

The substitute calls for the deportation and exclusion of immoral aliens, exclusion and punishment of all persons, procedures, and punishment of all persons trafficking in immoral women, alien or native born, the subject of Interstate commerce.

The report further says that changes in the bill are based almost entirely on investigations of the Immigration Committee.

ARGUED FOR PROHIBITION. WOULD APPLY IT TO HAWAII. (ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—John G. Wootton, representative of the Anti-Saloon League of the Hawaiian Islands, appeared today before the Senate Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico, in support of a bill introduced by the late Senator Johnson of North Dakota, to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquor in Hawaii.

He replied to the members of the Senate Committee which asserted that the people of the Islands were capable of deciding for themselves whether they wanted compulsory prohibition.

It was asserted by Mr. Wootton that a majority of the people sentimentally would be for Federal legislation prohibiting the sale of liquor if it were not for the opposition aroused by liquor interests. He said the principles involved in the bill would be to say to the world that the Hawaiians were an unenlightened race.

WILL CONFIRM DEVLIN. TECHNICALITIES OVERCOME. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch) President Taft must send in anew the name of United States Dist.-Atty. Devlin before his confirmation. Atta-lerator General Wickenden will take steps to have this done. The appointment, which last spring was referred to a sub-committee for investigation of charges growing out of the Perrin case, does not remain effective for action now, the Senate Committee on Appropriations, Atta-lerator-General holding that a renomination must be confirmed.

STONE WINS; IRISH LOSES. Secretary MacVeagh Withdraws Opposition Upon Learning of Promise Made by President.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch) Secretary MacVeagh gave up today and it seems sure that Gen. Stone will be made a naval officer on the first of the year. President Taft made a personal promise to Stone in San Francisco, and the Secretary of the Treasury, on learning this, announced that the president's promise would have to be kept. MacVeagh did not like to surrender, for ever.

DEPEW SEEKS RE-ELECTION.

Aged, But Active New York Senator Will Fight to Retain Seat.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch) Senator MacVeagh, the Chicago detective who arrested the Chicago detective, the murderer of Marie Favala, a young waitress, did not come to this State, as many believed, for the purpose of practicing his profession of trial of criminals, but to get a divorce. Gen. Clark, who had completed his divorce from Mary Chyska, his wife, who is now in the East. He charges his wife with extreme cruelty and alleges that she has treated him in a brutal manner by calling him vile and dirty, and even assaulting him. Chyska got on the night of the murder of the Favala girl, a Reno resident who happened to be on the street with a rig to follow Fortunato Tarisano into the hills, north of the city. On catching up with the rig, captured the murderer, brought him back to Reno and turned him over to the police officers. Later Tarisano was tried for murder and sentenced to twenty-five years in the Nevada penitentiary.

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to treat it is to drink a large amount of water. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition.—Adv.

FERRYBOAT WRECK FOUND.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—The wreck of the car ferry Marquette and Bessemer No. 2, which foundered during the great storm on the Lake Erie, Tuesday, December 7, resulting in the death of thirty-three persons, was found late this afternoon by the tug Reed at a point twelve miles from Conneaut. Efforts will be made to ascertain whether any bodies are still aboard.

There are still twenty-four persons missing.

CHILDREN LOST PASTORAL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT)

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—"I want papa for Christmas, even if I don't get any other presents, and if I don't get him I don't know what I will do," said little Johnny Bour, Jr., son of John P. Bour, who disappeared about a year ago. According to the detective bureau, nothing has as yet been heard of Bour, but the search is being followed throughout the country by the police, who have been requested to do all in their power to find the missing man, as little Johnny is rapidly becoming wasted from grief.

DEAD AROSE AND KILLED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)

TERRE HAUTE (Ind.), Dec. 17.—An undertaker started to prepare the body of Edward Murphy for burial, the supposed dead man arose and yawned. "I feel better after that long sleep," he said. Murphy had been in a state of invalidism ten hours. He had been an invalid for a long time. But the undertaker soon was recalled, for Murphy really died yesterday after joking to the frightened embalmer about his "first death."

The State was not in session today.

TO PROBE SUBSIDY GRAFT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—A committee of corruption against members of Congress and of the subsidizing of newspapers for and against ship subsidy, which have been made in various American newspapers and periodicals, was recently introduced in the House today by Representative Hardy of Texas, who demands a Congressional investigation. He asks that a committee of two Democrats and four Republicans be appointed to inquire into the subject and make a report.

Hatherly unexpectedly agreed to insert in the bill an amendment appropriating $75,000 for playgrounds for the children of the District.

Near the close of the day, Mr. Mann made an attack upon Mr. Tweedie, Auditor of the District, for criticizing the proposed amendment.

He said that office had made the statements attributed to him, he ought to be discharged.

The State was not in session today.

STOLE HOLIDAY JEWELRY.

(RAKER CITY (Okla.) Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch]) Officers are today searching for a man, who is believed to be the thief of a $1000 worth of jewelry in the Knox jewelry store at Huntington last evening of $4000 worth of jewelry and made good his escape. The proprietor of the store locked the door while he went to his evening meal, and in that interval a robber kicked in a side door and robbed the place of the most valuable jewelry, including the holiday stock which the merchant had just unpacked. Sheriff Rand placed several deputies on the trail of the thief, and the chief of the O. R. and N. S. is here taking a hand in the search, but thus far no clue has been found. Strangely enough nobody heard the crash of breaking glass nor saw the robber when he committed the bold deed.

BALTIMORE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Because of the death of his sister-in-law, the President today authorized the recall of invitations for the dance that was to have been given in the White House, December 22.

PRESIDENT MOURNS SISTER.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Because of the death of his sister-in-law, the President today authorized the recall of invitations for the dance that was to have been given in the White House, December 22.

BOOZE BRINGS RUIN.

(QUINCY (Ill.) Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch]) Supreme Justice George H. Curtis of New York was found dead in his bed at his home. He was 80 years old.

Mrs. Taff died last night in a hospital at Baltimore. The President, who has been drinking more or less freely, was in poor health and accounts have not been posted up later than July 1. The Supervisors had taken notice of the condition of affairs at their September session, but Richard Clough, the chief of the office, was not present. The President is endeavoring to post up the business of the office before January 3, when the Supervisors meet. The office pays $1000 a year. Clough probably will be appointed to the office.

MEMBERSHIP WORTHLESS.

(SACRAMENTO, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch]) Life memberships in the State Agricultural Society are not worth the paper the certificates are written upon, according to the opinion of Atty.-Gen. Webb submitted today to Secretary Fisher of the society. There are 10,000 members in the society, and a membership fee of $1000 is paid $100 apiece for the privileges, which carried with them season tickets to State fair and immunity from paying fees for exhibits, stock, and other services. While the other 145 life members have died, the season tickets and other accommodations are still in existence.

The President was deeply grieved to learn of the death of his sister-in-law, although it was not entirely unexpected.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Senate Select Committee on Indian Affairs has voted to postpone consideration of the bill introduced by Senator Johnson of North Dakota, to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquor in Hawaii.

He replied to the members of the Senate Committee which asserted that the people of the Islands were capable of deciding for themselves whether they wanted compulsory prohibition.

It was asserted by Mr. Wootton that a majority of the people sentimentally would be for Federal legislation prohibiting the sale of liquor if it were not for the opposition aroused by liquor interests. He said the principles involved in the bill would be to say to the world that the Hawaiians were an unenlightened race.

WILL CONFIRM DEVLIN. TECHNICALITIES OVERCOME. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch) President Taft must send in anew the name of United States Dist.-Atty. Devlin before his confirmation. Atta-lerator General Wickenden will take steps to have this done. The appointment, which last spring was referred to a sub-committee for investigation of charges growing out of the Perrin case, does not remain effective for action now, the Senate Committee on Appropriations, Atta-lerator-General holding that a renomination must be confirmed.

Stone Wins; Irish Loses. Secretary MacVeagh Withdraws Opposition Upon Learning of Promise Made by President.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch) Senator MacVeagh, the Chicago detective who arrested the Chicago detective, the murderer of Marie Favala, a young waitress, did not come to this State, as many believed, for the purpose of practicing his profession of trial of criminals, but to get a divorce. Gen. Clark, who had completed his divorce from Mary Chyska, his wife, who is now in the East. He charges his wife with extreme cruelty and alleges that she has treated him in a brutal manner by calling him vile and dirty, and even assaulting him. Chyska got on the night of the murder of the Favala girl, a Reno resident who happened to be on the street with a rig to follow Fortunato Tarisano into the hills, north of the city. On catching up with the rig, captured the murderer, brought him back to Reno and turned him over to the police officers. Later Tarisano was tried for murder and sentenced to twenty-five years in the Nevada penitentiary.

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to treat it is to drink a large amount of water. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition.—Adv.

James B. Devine.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch) James B. Devine, prominent for many years as a lawyer and politician died last night in his forty-ninth year. Frank D. Ryan, the other member of the noted law firm of Ryan & Devine, died a few months ago. Devine ran for Congress but was defeated by Caminiti. Both Devine and Ryan were prominent chiefly as attorneys, and ranked high in their profession. Judge Devine frequently served as presiding attorney at the trials of his surviving relatives. Among his surviving relatives is a sister, Mrs. Winifred Den of Santa Barbara.

will continue her journey to Seattle Sunday. Miss Carter's idea of creating a "good cheer" society came to her while sick at a local hotel one year ago. "I was very ill," she explained, "and so very lonely, and when I recovered I determined to go straight to New York and establish a 'good cheer' society that would provide good cheer to convalescent patients in hospitals, hotels, and boarding-houses and homes if necessary. If only a crushed flower, a dainty note or a telephone call could have been sent me while recovering, how cheerful it would have made me. I have incorporated the 'good cheer' society in New York and we are going to erect a twenty-eight-story building as a convalescent hospital and we will build one in Chicago."

CHINCH NABED IN CHICAGO.

THOUSANDS PASS BY.

Thousands passed before the bier on the opposite side of which stood two officers and two men. The newspaper correspondents were admitted to the room, whose bare walls and simple furnishings were in marked contrast with the surroundings which the occupant had enjoyed in life.

American Minister Wilson, immediately upon hearing of the King's death, expressed his condolences to the royal family, and also made formal expression on behalf of the United States to the Foreign Office.

The newspapers, in special editions, devote several pages to the life of the deceased, which is criticized generally, but where intellectual greatness is extolled.

The Etat Belge and the Petit Bleu praise the work of Leopold for both Belgium and the Congo.

WINNING NAG IS PENALIZED.JUDGES AT THE OAKLAND TRACK MAKE A SHOWING.

Disqualify a Horse Called Chester Krum for Bumping Into Another Beast Near the Finish—Roberts and El Molino Surprise Their Friends in First Event.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Dec. 17.—The first disqualification of the season at Emeryville occurred today in the Pacific Union Handicap. Chester Krum finished in front, but was placed second, while first money went to Judge Quinn. About a mile from the finish, Chester Krum ran into Judge Quinn, knocking him off his stride. The interference was very apparent, and the judges did not hesitate, after hearing the stories of the riders.

Robert won the opening event from El Molino. The weather was fine and the track fast. Results:

End of Latonia.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 17.—Cincinnati racing men say Latonia track will be sold in the next three weeks, though some of them are not sanguine as to the time for the sale. The doctors at present say the sale of the track will not sit well with the National League, as it would be a financial loss to the city. But the men who are in favor of the sale say the city will not break the deadlock unless another option is presented to them.

Five and one-half furloongs: Roberta, 112 (Borel); won; El Molino, 108 (McBride); second; Nedra, 107 (McBride); third; time 1:08 2-5. Contra Costa Biased, Glare, Barney Mason also ran.

Five and one-half furloongs: Silvia, 111; Cavalier, won; Calypso, 112 (Walsh); third; time 1:09 1-4. Delmas, Galena, Gale, Tom O'Malley, Oswald B. Ilex also ran.

Six furloongs: Darlington, 122 (McBride); won; Edinburgh, 122 (Coburn); second; Minnedisco, 109 (Cavanaugh); third; time 1:14 1-5. Illusion, Melton, Helen Carroll, Chitterlings also ran.

VICTORS' BANQUET.

COUNTY RAID
NEXT PLANNED.

Then the State; Campaign Is All Outlined.

G.G.O. Speakers Have Rosy
Dream of Future.

Heney Poses as Undefeated;
Fight But Begins.

Five hundred and fifty members of the Good Government party crowded the banquet hall at Levy's last night to celebrate the victory at the recent city election, when the entire Goo-goo ticket was successful. It was a "populist" gathering, and the menu was dispatched with alacrity, as the officials had provided a programme of fourteen five-minute talks, which every one seemed to believe would be twice as long as intended and they were.

The crowd was representative of the party in control of the entire municipal machinery, and the first table was a symposium of all the leaders, most of whom were on the programme.

But the principal thing to be accomplished, beyond rejoicing over the victory, was to serve notice, by nearly all the speakers, that preparations must be made for another battle, with the battle cry to be: "To the Courthouse."

Many speakers reminded the listeners—none more forcibly than Francis J. Heney, the defeated San Franciscan candidate for District Attorney—that the conquest of the city should be followed by that of the county.

None present could mistake the purpose of the banquet for every speech of self-aggrandizement contained its moral for future efforts.

Mayer Lissner, president of the G.G.O., began the speech-making, but not the observance of the five-minute rule. He credited the late victory to the progress which was being made in the movements the party had participated in during the last three years—the non-partisan campaign of 1906, the Lincoln-Roosevelt fight, the charter movement, the bond issue, etc. He declared that non-partisan success was impossible without the non-partisan ballot and the abolition of Councilmanic wards. He said the results showed that the go-ahead work of the G.G.O. had won the day by $500 instead of $200.

"But the responsibility has just begun," he said. "The administration must be a rational one. The great victory of the people requires strict economy in the use of public funds. In reducing taxes, let us chance of future success. This is not alone the fight of Los Angeles, for it is a country-wide movement, and we must next redress the county and the State."

He said the G.G.O. does not in politics for officers and therefore could not solve the problem of distributing jobs to the workers who might think they had earned them.

THEN THE MAYOR.

Mayer Alexander, introduced by Toastmaster T. E. Gibbon after a speech, declared his faith in the ability of Los Angeles to succeed in the many great enterprises he catalogued and said: "For the benefit of others elected, he pledged the fullest effort to do duty manfully, as judgment dictated. He reminded the guests that when he took office eight months ago the city was in a "bad hole." "And I want to get it out of boy's job to run this city," he added.

The laugh which greeted this dazed the Mayor until he realized the joke—for a septuagenarian is no "boy."

Dr. John R. Haynes, who was to speak on the subject of the G.G.O., could not be present and a letter from him, read by Prof. L. A. Hanley, congratulated the victors and reminded them that the Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall forced into the city charter by him and others, had been the means of making victory possible.

Marshall Stimson, who was discussing "The Fight for Good Government" with vigor, was disconcerted by the arrival of Francis J. Heney, but he finished while Heney took his seat. After Stimson, Heney got an ovation and was escorted to the head of the table.

J. O. Koepff did not discuss "The Municipal League," because he could not be present, but a letter from Charles D. Willard, organizer of the league, was read by E. O. Edgerton, carrying a warm greeting from Willard's desk room.

As the banquet was primarily intended for the three prize winning precincts in the last election, but expanded by general demand, Lee G. Gates was called upon to tell how precisely the G.G.O. had carried out the plan of Alexander, and also to announce a eulogy on Alexander himself. He said the people of Los Angeles had done more than make a triumph for themselves, but they had elected Alexander, who was tried and true man in office as an example to other cities.

Frank G. Finlayson told of the work of the G.G.O. in another speech, and C. W. E. Griffith told of his recent No. 1 in Highland Park, which gave the ticket the victory.

A LISSNER CONVERT.

W. J. Hunsaker told of the non-partisan fight three years ago. Then he said he disagreed with Lissner, that organization was essential to success. He said he thought publicity alone would not do. But now he agreed with No. 115 South Temple street about a month ago, since then he had no further organization to perpetuate the results. S. C. Graham declared the "county non-partisan" fight of three years ago was thoroughly coming up again if only Fernando War and C. W. E. Griffith had its successes. Talking about "Higher Ups," Thomas Lee Woolwine declared that conditions of error could never be corrected without telling great truths, telling names. He did not mention any names, but he implied that some of the judiciary should be pulled down.

Judge Cyrus F. McNutt said "Democrats and non-partisans" was testified to by the fact that the Democratic League, of which he is president, was the first to recall the recall of Mayor Harper, a Democrat. It was a committee of the Democratic organization that asked the Municipal League to take up the fight.

Councilman Wallace sang a humorous "swan song" for the dying Council administration, and was followed by Dr. W. E. Wells, who said the principles of the new Council, who said the principal effort of the new body would be to undo the bad things of the old just

HENRY THE LAST.

The speechmaking ended with Henry. The applause was received wildly. Many waved their napkins and saluted him as he mounted the chair. The subject assigned to him was "California," but he did not make half as long a speech as some of those who had preceded him.

He congratulated the winners.

"Don't look on me as a defeated man," said he. "Why? I've only just begun to fight."

He said the initiative, the referendum and the recall had made the result here possible, and that they should come into the State Constitution, so that there would be no power to maintain a "people's lockout" to see that the representatives in the Legislature vote right.

He said he believed good government would be won recently in San Francisco, if the non-partisan ballot had been instruments in the people's hands.

Organization, as well as enthusiasm, was the secret of victory, and the people know the truth is not alone sufficient to achieve great victories.

Henry quit rather abruptly, after reminding his hearers that he is to speak tonight at Simpson Auditorium on "The Conservation of Our National Resources."

Freeman Gay, 92 years old, is dead at the home of his son, Leslie F. Gay, 2839 Idell street, after an illness extending a little over three weeks. The interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Pioneering on the difference of the vote on Councilmen—assuming that the vote for Mayor was not a fair test—Lissner asserted that the G.G.O. party had won the day by $500 instead of $200.

"But the responsibility has just begun," he said. "The administration must be a rational one. The great victory of the people requires strict economy in the use of public funds. WILL TEACH FARMING.

Columbia University Planning $2,000,000 School of Agriculture Near New York City.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Columbia University is planning the establishment of a $2,000,000 school of agriculture.

A committee of professors which has been wrestling with the preliminary problems presented by the plan announces that the course of study will occupy two years. Classroom instruction will be given only from October 1 to April 1, the remainder of the year being devoted to work in the field.

For the purposes of the school, the committee thinks that it will be necessary to acquire between 1900 and 2000 acres of land within a reasonable distance of New York City. To purchase these acres, however, and to stock and equip the institution will require about $1,500,000. After the work has been organized and is in running order, it is believed that the income from the farm will probably largely meet the expenses of the school.

The committee believes that the financial returns for those properly interested in agricultural work are so great that many persons who now situate themselves in small stations in the city may be induced to attempt practical farming if the opportunity is presented to them.

The Handicap of Nature.

Nothing in the human ingenuity can invent will ever make man superior to nature's dangers. At the most, we can reach only an irreducible minimum disaster in navigation. Probably, no accurate comparison were possible of man's volume of traffic and annual loss of life with that of animals. For 1909, it would show a large proportional decrease in the loss during the time. To that extent man is in the race with nature.

But his ultimate endeavor will never wipe out the handicap under which he started in the competition. Death Free from the world.

What a Woman Will Not Do

There is nothing a woman would not do to regain her lost beauty. She ought to be fully as zealous in preserving her good looks. The herb drink called Land's Family Medicine, or Land's Tea, is the most efficient aid in preserving a beautiful skin, and will do more than anything else to restore the roses to faded cheeks.

HARD LINES

GIRL'S CLAIM TO MILLIONS GONE.

DAUGHTER OF LATE SENATOR TABOR LOSES EQUITY.

Lack of Means Bars Silver Dollar Echo Tabor from Last Hope for Portion of Father's Fortune—Contest Papers Prepared by Herself Rejected by Recorder.

DENVER, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch] Silver Dollar Echo Tabor's struggle to regain any portion of the estate of many millions of her father, the late United States Senator H. A. W. Tabor, concerning which there has been endless litigation for many years, has come to a sorrowful end on her 18th birthday. It was the last day on which she could file a contest.

For several years Miss Tabor had declared she would start proceedings when she came of age. One year ago she began the investigation in her own way. She had no means to employ an attorney and for twelve months she has attempted to unravel the legal entanglements which surround the estate in order that she might save her equity.

Today she walked into the County Clerk and Recorder's office and presented a lengthy document for record, crude in wording and form. It was prepared by herself. In her girlish manner she had gone straight to the point, and said to say and said it, starting forth at once in the Tabor Grand Opera house block and old home on Grant Avenue.

But the clerk could find no law for the recording of the document. The law provides for a suit or some will or instrument of record justifying a bequest of a girl for justice. So Silver Dollar Echo Tabor shed bitter tears when the doors closed and shut out her last ray of hope for millions.

UNIQUE COMBINATION.

Speaker at Yale Alumni Banquet Describes Course and Gives Sleight-of-Hand Performance.

A scholarly description of the present Ph.D. course in the graduate school of Yale University, with a sleight-of-hand performance, by the dignified speaker at the close of the address, was the unique combination enjoyed by the Yale Alumni Association of Southern California, at the banquet of the organization held at the Hotel Westminster last evening.

Prof. Robert Williams of Pomona College, acting head of the department of psychology, told of his experiences in the Yale University, and the Yale Alumni Association of Southern California scholarship. Williams received his Ph.D. degree at Yale last spring, and was appointed at once to the faculty of Pomona. His sleight-of-hand performance was an illustration of the art with which he earned a part of his college expenses during the last years of his course.

As the attendance at the banquet was very small, and the nineteen guests at the affair took the aspect of a family gathering of intimates rather than a formal alumni banquet. Yale songs, cheers and reminiscences filled out the long informal programme.

During the winter part of the year, Williams was asked to speak again concerning his present condition at Yale, until all present felt that they were once more in close touch with the actual life of the university.

In the absence of Dr. Francis B. Kellogg, president of the organization, vice-president, Prof. Thomas E. Adams, head of the Yale School of Los Angeles, presided. A letter was read from Dr. Kellogg, expressing his sympathy and desire to have him speak again concerning his present condition at Yale, until all present felt that they were once more in close touch with the actual life of the university.

Mrs. May Bennett, a spruce-looking woman, with a brand of language that would put the late Pat Rooney in the shade, and wearing a picture hat covered with an ostrich plume that had never been on a barn-gain counter, was in Judge Wilbur's court, yesterday, to answer the charge that she had cruelly beaten her niece, Miss Bridget Kehoe, aged 12.

Several years ago Mrs. Bennett brought with her from Ireland two nieces, Miss Kehoe, and Mrs. Josephine Blake, and they all made their homes with the defendant on Crocker street. It was in evidence that on one occasion Miss Kehoe offered her aunt by marriage a flower, whereupon she was promptly taken in hand and thrown upon the ground, and the aunt jumping all over her. On other occasions she is charged with having beaten the child unmercifully; in fact, the situation became so bad that one of the neighbors, Mrs. Cupp, interfered and filed a complaint against her.

The court made an order for the girl to return to her aunt's, but warned the latter that she must treat her niece more mercifully or she would be sent for again. The child seemed to be disappointed with the order of the court, and her face was the picture of despair, and she burst into tears.

The husband was informed that it would be his duty to compel his wife to treat Miss Kehoe better, but it was quite evident that he knew the size of his task, for he said: "That will be quite a job, your honor."

Lawyer in Many Roles.

A Martiniere barrister has established a singular record by figuring as prisoner, magistrate and advocate within the space of five hours.

He opened this eventful session by taking his place in the dock of the Fort de France police court to meet a charge of assault and, having succeeded in proving considerable perjury, escaped with a slight fine.

While the next case was being heard, the magistrates were seated with indifference.

The only available substitute was the belligerent barrister, who theretofore had sat on the bench and, in the course of the afternoon, the effect of induction recovered and the temporary magistrate resigned his functions in time to plead for a client who had engaged his services a few days previously.—(London Chronicle.)

What a Woman Will Not Do

There is nothing a woman would not do to regain her lost beauty. She ought to be fully as zealous in preserving her good looks. The herb drink called Land's Family Medicine, or Land's Tea, is the most efficient aid in preserving a beautiful skin, and will do more than anything else to restore the roses to faded cheeks.

LAST JOURNEY.

PIONEER'S BODY COMING HOME.

OLD RESIDENT AND BUSINESS MAN DIES IN OREGON.

Founded the First Music and Piano House in This City—Was for Years in the Service of United States Postoffice Department—Funeral Next Monday.

The body of John Barnard Brown, former president and the founder of the J. B. Brown Music Company, No. 42 South Broadway, will arrive today from Ashland, Or., where he died last Sunday.

He had been a resident of Los Angeles for twenty-seven years and lived at No. 69 West First street for twenty-five years. He retired from business three years ago, selling out to a company composed of his son, C. P. Brown, H. M. Marquis and A. J. Everest, who now conduct the business under the old name. Since giving up active business life here Brown frequently went to Oregon, and was with his wife and family, making a temporary residence at Ashland, when he died.

He was born in Livermore Fall, Me., April 8, 1842, and was a graduate of Kentville College that State. During the Civil War he had charge of the United States mails for the army of the Potowmack, and was detailed to superintend the first railroad mail car used by the United States government.

After leaving the government service, he moved to Idaho, where he farmed for seven years, then engaged in buying and selling wheat. From there he moved to San Bernardino, Cal., and took charge of the postoffice. There he married Fannie Longdon of Oregon, Ill. They remained in San Bernardino seven years, in which place the two sons, Paul and Walter, were born.

The family moved to this city in 1882, and Brown established and conducted the first music and piano house here. He managed and controlled this business until 1906. A third son, Howard L. Brown, was born here.

Decades later a widow and the two sons, Walter L. Brown, a mining engineer in South Africa and Howard L. Brown lives with his parents. The father leaves an estate estimated at $30,000.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon from the First Congregational Church.

WOMAN IS WARNED.

Mrs. May Bennett, a spruce-looking woman, with a brand of language that would put the late Pat Rooney in the shade, and wearing a picture hat covered with an ostrich plume that had never been on a barn-gain counter, was in Judge Wilbur's court, yesterday, to answer the charge that she had cruelly beaten her niece, Miss Bridget Kehoe, aged 12.

Several years ago Mrs. Bennett brought with her from Ireland two nieces, Miss Kehoe, and Mrs. Josephine Blake, and they all made their homes with the defendant on Crocker street. It was in evidence that on one occasion Miss Kehoe offered her aunt by marriage a flower, whereupon she was promptly taken in hand and thrown upon the ground, and the aunt jumping all over her. On other occasions she is charged with having beaten the child unmercifully; in fact, the situation became so bad that one of the neighbors, Mrs. Cupp, interfered and filed a complaint against her.

The court made an order for the girl to return to her aunt's, but warned the latter that she must treat her niece more mercifully or she would be sent for again. The child seemed to be disappointed with the order of the court, and her face was the picture of despair, and she burst into tears.

The husband was informed that it would be his duty to compel his wife to treat Miss Kehoe better, but it was quite evident that he knew the size of his task, for he said: "That will be quite a job, your honor."

Medieval Judgment.

The Supreme Court, in an opinion received yesterday, affirms the judgment of the lower court in the case of M. L. Wolf against Thomas Wolfe. This gives the decision to the plaintiff, but a slight modification of the original judgment is ordered. The case involved a real estate deal for some farming land.

Handsome Edition.

The annual edition of the "California Fruit Grower" was out yesterday. It contains a complete and valuable statistical report of the production of citrus fruits in the State and also a resume of the past year in both deciduous and citrus fruits, as well as nuts. A number of illustrations are in colors and the entire edition is on bond paper. It is complete in ninety-two pages.

Parent-Teacher's Association.

At a meeting of the Union Parent-Teacher's Association held yesterday, Mrs. William Porter read an interesting paper on "Injustice to Children." William Garroldway read an instrumental solo and a second girl of the same grade sang. Twenty-five girls from the school were elected. A. J. Roberts, grand high priest; E. E. Akers, deputy grand high priest; J. M. Scott, grand king; J. H. Willingham, grand scribe; J. T. Long, grand treasurer; William Reynolds, grand secretary.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE--in the Courts and Offices.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Health Officer says rabies does exist now, and Superintendent Zimmerman of the S.P.C.A. says there never has been a case in Southern California. The Cornell is in doubt.

Judge Mosey yesterday refused to consider the proposed sale of the Keating lands until the order issued by Judge Wilbur suspending the trustees of the estate was either modified or withdrawn.

Judge Mosey yesterday made an order barring Attorney Charles S. Anderson from practicing in the courts of California on the ground that he had been guilty of unprofessional practice and the embezzlement of funds.

Judge James confirmed the report of the assignee in insolvency of the Wentworth Hotel Company, at South Pasadena, and allowed the attorneys $20,000 fees.

The argument in the Amand Fisher murder case in Judge Wilbur's court, together with the charge of the court, will be completed today; the defendant testified he did all he could to avoid running down Mrs. Feller with the automobile he was driving at the time she was killed.

Charges were made yesterday that Charles Williams, who shot Patrolman Sanders, was "manhandled" in the City Jail shortly after his arrest. He was charged on a charge of assault to kill.

Frank Wilson was held to answer to the Superior Court on a charge of bigamy yesterday, by Justice Frederickson, on testimony given by the prisoner's two wives.

AT THE CITY HALL.

COUNCIL GASPS AT DOG WAR.

MUST DECIDE WHETHER RABIES IS OR IS NOT.

If Rabies Is Then There Will Be Doubt as to What to Do--Health Officer Declares Case Now Exists in the City--Zimmer Says It's a mere Myth.

Just how a Council, nearing its last gasps of official life, is to determine whether Superintendent Zimmerman of the S.P.C.A. or Dr. Powers, Health Officer of Los Angeles, is right is something the nearly-expired members are avoiding.

Dr. Powers is positive that there is, has been and perhaps always will be, rabies, either "dumb" or "furious," in or about Los Angeles.

Mr. Zimmerman is just as certain that there has never, is not now and probably never will be a real case of rabies of any kind in Southern California, and that hydrophobia is almost a myth.

Both are expected at the session of the Council Tuesday when the communication of the Southern California Veterinary Medical Association, asking for a committee, will come up for consideration. A majority of Councilmen will start out in the discussion with the belief that muzzling is unnecessary but the veterinarians say this will not affect the result as they will be the ones concerned that there is now and has been for months past real rabies in this city and vicinity.

"There is now in the city itself a case of real rabies," said Dr. Powers yesterday. "A dog, the pet of a boy, developed the disease and the boy was bitten. We were promptly notified and took charge of the dog and have kept the boy under our eyes ever since the dog has been here. All the evidence is that there is now and has been for months past real rabies in this city and vicinity."

In addition, Dr. L. W. Young, who was formerly City Veterinarian, reported two cases last month. Under my own observation in September was a case of rabies where a horse, bitten by a dog, developed the disease and died and it had to be killed. At that time I advocated the passage of the dog-muzzling ordinance and it passed only to be repealed in a few days and thus almost nullifying our work in the health department to eradicate the disease.

There are few cases of what are termed "furious" rabies. This form of the disease seems to dog, owners, through the streets snapping and biting at anything it comes in contact with. The usual form is the "dumb" rabies where there is complete paralysis of the lower jaws of the animal and its inoculation, usually from dog to dog. Inoculation of a human being discloses only as the abrasion of the skin or the incision of the teeth is near a strong nerve center. If far from the center the longer it will take to develop. In the case of the boy we have under observation it may take six months to disclose the disease. With the dog who bit him the condition is lessened, it is quickly usually three weeks."

Many other physicians support Dr. Powers, even if Dr. Gibbons of the health board aligns himself with the skeptics. But even if the Cornell is convinced that no case does exist there will be difficulty in deciding whether to muzzle dogs or require their confinement off the streets. It is believed that the public would be better off with the Zimmers and Gibbons and others pronounce this inhumane and advocate confinement, if anything at all.

While all this is going on the dog people are showing no indications that rabies exist. The thousands of dogs that have reached it in the last year seem to have been too healthy for economy, pound employees think. The pound department is cited as a positive defense for the unconfined canines.

The Mayor, with Humane Animal Commissioners Elder and Haley, visited the city pound, on Porter street, yesterday and also a new location proposed. Haley, the new director, is on land owned by the city in the river bed, just north of Vernon, and is believed by the Mayor to be an economy. After the visit, the Mayor and his commissioners decided to easily bring about and a large sum saved the city. The commission is now paying George B. Vacher $120-a-month rent for the present quarters.

It is understood that the new well will be used to change the collection of dog licenses so that inspectors of the commission may receive the money whenever they find the unlicensed dog.

It is believed by Commissioner Haley that the would expedite collections and render police prosecutions unnecessary.

MAYOR'S PERMIT.

PROSECUTOR IGNORES IT. A permit to sell fruit on the streets by auctioneer, cart at First and Wilshire streets, issued by the Mayor, did not prevent the arrest of Mrs. Laborwitz yesterday.

She called on the Mayor Thursday with influential friends and obtained the permit, which practically suspended a provision of the traffic ordinance, it respected by the police, on the statement that her husband is unable to sell, to make living.

Hardly had she begun business yesterday when Japanese fruit dealers, applied to the City Prosecutor for a complaint against her. Prosecutor Eddie notified the Mayor that this permit would not suspend the law, and that the woman would be prosecuted.

The Mayor at once sent for the woman to review the permit.

"I made an intention to give the woman a chance because her circumstances seemed to justify it," said the Mayor.

"But I had grave doubt about doing it."

He did not believe it was worth the paper it was written on.

He again get a permit from me for anything that contemplates an evasion of an ordinance."

The poor woman was quite disconcerted when the permit was taken up, but she cannot speak English, and her explanations were lost.

REPAVING STREETS.

CITY HAS NO MONEY.

A new problem is facing the city, whose finances will not permit even contemplation of the apparent solution. W. M. Humphreys, inspector of streets, called the attention of the Board of Public Works yesterday to the fact that many streets, improved and accepted to the city, need repair or reconstruction and that this work, in the former holdings of the department, should be done at the expense of the public treasury, just as the repaving of East First street is now being done.

Mr. Humphreys assured the board that the city now or in the near future will be faced with the financial ability of the city to do the work involved. It was held that with the trustees thus suspended, it would be impossible to give a deed to the property, even if the sale was confirmed.

Judge Rives at once coincided with the board in its opinion that he would not be justified in doing anything along the line of disposing of the land until the order of a co-defendant branch of the Superior Court had been modified or wiped out. The court said the matter would be hung over, so far as he was concerned until that was done.

Attorney McDonald and A. W. McPherson, removed for alleged dereliction of duty in connection with their management of the estate, were temporarily suspended by the trustees. The board then voted to accept the services of the attorney and the court since both the attorney and the court are in Sixth street, from Main street to Vermont avenue. Each of the 188 lamps will have five 100-Watt tungsten burner, equal to 400 candle power per post.

McDowell and A. W. McPherson, removed for alleged dereliction of duty in connection with their management of the estate, were temporarily suspended by the trustees.

The board determined to ask the City Attorney if there was not some legal way to order the resurfacing of the streets worn out and assess the cost of the work against common property.

Unless the attorney can find a way to sustain the board in this policy very little of the work necessary can be done.

City Attorney Must Move.

The Board of Public Works will publish but politely invite the City Attorney and all of his force of deputies to vacate their rooms on the third floor of the City Hall. The reason of the trustees is that the attorney and the court are in Sixth street, from Main street to Vermont avenue.

The board will advertise for bids for new lamps unless it can house the attorney in the Temple Block.

DR. TOBBETTS TO RESIGN.

Dr. H. B. Toobetts, assistant city health officer, will tender his resignation to the Board of Health at its next meeting and retire from the department January 1. He has been associated with the city health force two years and has made an exceptional record, particularly in school sanitation. After he leaves, he will give his mornings to the promotion of schools, under the employment of the Board of Education, and the rest of his time to private practice.

HUNTING BUILDING VALUES.

A. L. Wyllie of Stockton, a deputy of the State Board of Forestry, has begun work in the office of Building Inspector Backus checking up the permits issued for the past year. Mr. Wyllie says the purpose is to discover any discrepancy in the manner in which the value of the permits as issued and the improvements as assessed for taxation. He says no important discrepancy is anticipated, but it was deemed best to check here, in Oakland and in San Francisco.

CITY HALL BREVITIES.

The Board of Public Works yesterday referred the bids and plans for the Figueroa-street fire-engine house back to the Fire Commission for further consideration in view of the representations of a member of the Finance Committee of the Council that the money would be appropriated to construct the building.

The report of the assessor in inaccuracy between the figures and the amount of the tax bill was submitted to the city council, and it was voted to use the services of contractors to build this house this year to prevent an increase in the insurance, but if such an agreement was ever reached it was never made public.

There is now in the city itself a case of real rabies," said Dr. Powers yesterday. "A dog, the pet of a boy, developed the disease and the boy was bitten. We were promptly notified and took charge of the dog and have kept the boy under our eyes ever since the dog has been here. All the evidence is that there is now and has been for months past real rabies in this city and vicinity."

Pico-street Lamps.

An entirely new ornamental design by Max Mayberg, which he has given to the city for use on the two miles of Pico street that is to be illuminated—from Main street to Vermont avenue. Each of the 188 lamps will have five 100-Watt tungsten burner, equal to 400 candle power per post.

Dr. H. B. Toobetts, assistant city health officer, will tender his resignation to the Board of Health at its next meeting and retire from the department January 1. He has been associated with the city health force two years and has made an exceptional record, particularly in school sanitation.

The board determined to ask the City Attorney if there was not some legal way to order the resurfacing of the streets worn out and assess the cost of the work against common property.

Unless the attorney can find a way to sustain the board in this policy very little of the work necessary can be done.

City Hall BREVITIES.

The Board of Public Works yesterday referred the bids and plans for the Figueroa-street fire-engine house back to the Fire Commission for further consideration in view of the representations of a member of the Finance Committee of the Council that the money would be appropriated to construct the building.

The report of the assessor in inaccuracy between the figures and the amount of the tax bill was submitted to the city council, and it was voted to use the services of contractors to build this house this year to prevent an increase in the insurance, but if such an agreement was ever reached it was never made public.

There is now in the city itself a case of real rabies," said Dr. Powers yesterday. "A dog, the pet of a boy, developed the disease and the boy was bitten. We were promptly notified and took charge of the dog and have kept the boy under our eyes ever since the dog has been here. All the evidence is that there is now and has been for months past real rabies in this city and vicinity."

In addition, Dr. L. W. Young, who was formerly City Veterinarian, reported two cases last month. Under my own observation in September was a case of rabies where a horse, bitten by a dog, developed the disease and died and it had to be killed.

At that time I advocated the passage of the dog-muzzling ordinance and it passed only to be repealed in a few days and thus almost nullifying our work in the health department to eradicate the disease.

With the dog who bit him the condition is lessened, it is quickly usually three weeks."

Many other physicians support Dr. Powers, even if Dr. Gibbons of the health board aligns himself with the skeptics. But even if the Cornell is convinced that no case does exist there will be difficulty in deciding whether to muzzle dogs or require their confinement off the streets. It is believed that the public would be better off with the Zimmers and Gibbons and others pronounce this inhumane and advocate confinement, if anything at all.

While all this is going on the dog people are showing no indications that rabies exist. The thousands of dogs that have reached it in the last year seem to have been too healthy for economy, pound employees think. The pound department is cited as a positive defense for the unconfined canines.

The Mayor, with Humane Animal Commissioners Elder and Haley, visited the city pound, on Porter street, yesterday and also a new location proposed. Haley, the new director, is on land owned by the city in the river bed, just north of Vernon, and is believed by the Mayor to be an economy.

After the visit, the Mayor and his commissioners decided to easily bring about and a large sum saved the city. The commission is now paying George B. Vacher $120-a-month rent for the present quarters.

It is understood that the new well will be used to change the collection of dog licenses so that inspectors of the commission may receive the money whenever they find the unlicensed dog.

It is believed by Commissioner Haley that the would expedite collections and render police prosecutions unnecessary.

Editorial Points

It's a brave man that injects himself into a department store these days.

The dispatches state that King Leopold died easy. In other words, he died as he lived.

The Belgian situation is not as interesting as it would be were the new King unmarried.

A report states that a Sacramento man flamboyed a widow. If he did he's a daisy.

It is difficult to do much business the week before Christmas unless it is Christmas business.

"The State of Siskiyou." Never, never! The nation will not stand for a name like that.

There's a sweet lot for you—those sugar-trust thieves. And just petty-larceny thieves at that.

The late King of the Belgians lived seventy-four years of time, but about a thousand years in other ways.

It seems now that Capt. Loose is also a liar. Really Dr. Cook is fortunate in the knockers he has drawn around him.

Half water and half land though Nicaragua may be, there is no reason why it should not be all peace from this time forward.

Leopold was a descendant of "Ernest the Pious." Sometimes, however, we differ from our ancestors in piety as well as in other respects.

It certainly must look like Christmas up there on the Owens River, with the snow and the ice. Well, we wish Bill Mulholland a merry one!

There is a probability of a scrap between rival heirs to the throne of Belgium. How would it be for the Belgians to decide the matter?

Los Angeles has made a record in early Christmas shopping. Next week begins the home stretch. Let us hit the trail first thing Monday morning.

Santa Claus would better stick to his reindeer. Airships have not been thoroughly tested as yet, and we can't take chances on not having the stockings filled.

Christmas used to last two weeks in the early days of California. Now it begins about the middle of November and it takes pretty nearly a month after to get over it.

At this distance it looks as though Señor Madriz will have to have something more than an appointment from Zelaya in order to rule over the destinies of Nicaragua.

The woman-suffrage movement both in Europe and America would make greater progress, we think, were it not for the fact that men have so many other things to attend to.

It is too good to be true that the English are growing to be like Americans. Surely it will never be possible to make an Englishman see a joke, no matter what else happens.

Our advice to young men is to arrange their affairs so that it will be their collections and not their bills that fall due at this season of each year that is scheduled to roll by.

We are indeed glad to note that James J. Hill has dropped his guise of pessimism and taken to jokes and much laughter. Mr. Hill is too big a man to wear a scowl as a regular habit.

Congress appears to be determined to work right along until the holidays. In some way or other Congress seems to have gathered the impression lately that the country expects it to work.

"Stone walls do not a prison make," "tis true, but Mr. Taft must often think they do when he hears the train whistles blow as the choo-choo cars pull out of Washington for all over the country.

Considerable trouble is reported from the various States of the Union in regard to keeping up the membership of the National Guard. The young men of today are not deeply imbued with the military spirit.

It is an awful thing to kill a turkey that you have been friends with for months, but it is better than eating a turkey you have never spoken to and whose death may have occurred long before you were born.

Can't Jeffries find a better sparring partner to train with than James J. Corbett? Corbett used to be the wonder of the world, but he is now a "has-been," and that won't do when Mr. Johnson is to be debated with.

In declining the usual Christmas gift to Chicago University Mr. Rockefeller may have a desire to make it understood that he will no longer contribute so largely to the humorous department of American education.

Have you ever tried just taking nothing for yourself and giving everything you could lay hands on to poor folks when Christmas comes? If you can work yourself up to that point you can put yourself on the back and say you are a real Christian.

Thomas Fortune Ryan, another "pious" man, was Leopold's partner in the rubber business of the Congo. We are not vengeful, yet we trust it is true that there is a day of reckoning on the other side of the River which every man's ghost must cross.

THE WAR OF THE TIN SOLDIERS.
Peace is apparently in sight in Nicaragua, with Uncle Sam sitting on the lid. The war is over, the wounded are well bandaged, and the fourteen or fifteen brave men who were slain in that ensanguined contest decently interred. As the Christmas star approaches, a hush falls on the wide expanses of land and water—mostly water—that constitute our bloodthirsty and hell-roaring little sister of the South.

It was a fierce struggle while it lasted. For months and months the troops of the contesting forces marched forth to battle or laid in wait for the enemy. Shots were fired and it is reported on good authority that several cases are known when a soldier actually hit a human being instead of puncturing a banana tree or clipping the wings of some late horn flying homeward with a fish in its mouth for supper.

Let us rejoice that the bugs or the tin horns or whatever it is the army uses in Nicaragua at last sound the welcome song of peace. The war is ended, the election is over. But it will be long, alas, before the wounds of this bloody conflict are healed. It will be long and many a day before these soldiers now wending their various ways back to the farms will pull the last cactus stickers from their skins and heels. It will be the middle of next summer, at least, before the sunburned spots will be healed that were embazoned on the anatomies of those brave troops during the numerous "diversions in the rear," to use a strictly military phrase.

As for Zelaya, the tyrant, the dictator, the gaffer, the Nero—he goes hence. He must "vamoose." He must take his hated presence and his ill-gotten wealth out of the country, although there will be a struggle by the new administration to head off the ill-gotten wealth aforesaid, if possible. And it will be well if this can be done, for they will need the money in Nicaragua and it would please us better to see it handed around among the boys who bore the brunt of the several frays than to see this mean old graftor handing it out in Paris and other European centers of fashion and frivolity.

THE MAN AND THE BOOK.
What a sensational career that of Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood has been in the army! A doctor twenty-five years ago, who entered the army as an assistant surgeon, in a little span of time he leaps to the very head of the army.

Had Dr. Wood when he took a position in the medical corps of the United States army in 1886 been a West Point graduate, with all the science of military affairs come from books in a three years' course at the military academy, one would not wonder at his rise; but the young army doctor was a mere civilian. He had had no book knowledge of military matters. He was a mere stripling, scarcely of the average age of graduates of West Point, when he first took service in the army as a physician. He is only 49 years old now.

He was serving as an assistant surgeon out in the Indian country infested by hostiles, where traveling was exceedingly dangerous. He had the true soldier spirit and could "carry a message to Garcia," probably to Hades. He rode seventy miles through the hostile country in a single night and then walked thirty the next day. In this same Indian campaign he found a detachment of infantry without a commanding officer at a critical moment in the fight. He took command of the men and repulsed Germonio and his band.

No wonder a man with a spirit like this rose in the army. There was a great outcry when President Roosevelt jumped him over the head of a lot of West Pointers into a high military position, and there has been a good deal of jealousy of Wood's rapid advancement up to the present time.

We had the same experience during the big Civil War. The feeling of the West Pointers against the volunteer officers was strong and bitter. But a great many of these "uneducated" soldiers developed true military spirit and rose rapidly in the army on their own merits.

Book learning in military affairs, as in medicine or any other profession, may mean much or little. All it depends upon the man. Grant was a West Pointer, and so was Sherman. Whether it was because of their studies or in spite of their studies, they made pretty good soldiers. Our townsmen, Adm. R. Chaffee, went into the volunteer army as a private, but he showed the true military spirit and developed military genius of the highest order.

Fifty years before our Civil War the same thing had taken place in the great wars that France carried on against combined Europe. Farmers, small shop-keepers, tradesmen of all kinds, rushed into the French army to repel the invaders, and no end of them rose to distinction in the wars before Napoleon came to the front.

The conclusion is that unless a man "has the stuff in him" a hundred schools cannot make much out of him. If the man has it in him the study is an exceedingly great advantage. But if the genius or talent is there a man will easily overcome all disadvantages and make his mark in the world in spite of the obstacles. Webster was learned in the law, and so was Rufus Choate. Lincoln studied lying on his abdomen before a log fire in a log hut, reading books without a master.

Life in the United States, during all the time since the Puritans landed at Plymouth Rock, and the Cavaliers down at Albemarle Sound, has furnished the stage on which merit can make a display of its value, either with or without book learning.

The subduing of the wilderness, the making of something out of nothing, begat initiative, self-confidence, inventive genius, will and courage.

We often feel like approaching very near to the altar in the temple and lifting up our voice in thanksgiving to Providence that we were not raised as our fathers and grandfathers. Log huts, hog and hominy, cornpone, homespun clothes, bad roads, no amusements, little school opportunities, were all hard lines along which to walk and between which to live. It is much easier to pass our time in a modern apartment with disappearing beds, electric lights and gas stoves; it is nice to wear "store clothes" and "boiled shirts," to have Tuxedo coats and opera hats, to be able to attend "The Three Twins" or to see David Warfield play tragedy and melodrama; but it was the untoward circumstances that surrounded the lives of the men of two generations ago that developed political orators like Stephen A. Douglas and statesmen like Abraham Lincoln.

THE WEST COAST OF MEXICO.
Few of us realize fully the great work of development going on along the west coast of Mexico. The Southern Pacific is building a road from Nogales to its southern terminus, almost as long as the lines reaching from Los Angeles to Portland. The country through which this road will be built is neither desert nor wilderness. Men like the late E. H. Harriman do not build railroads unless there is traffic in sight to keep them running. But the west coast of Mexico is rich from the agricultural point of view and from the mineral deposit.

This is of immediate importance to the city of Los Angeles. This road connects directly with the line of the Southern Pacific going westward. The people of Western Mexico are much more likely to seek this city as a residence for their families, to seek this as a center of education for their sons and daughters, than they are to send them East. The temper of our people is more sympathetic with that of the Mexican people and our climate is more nearly like theirs.

Not only the railroad but the ocean furnishes us

The Scepter of Woman.
An American Poet's Reply to the English Poet's Abandon.

The woman with pale lips to kiss
Knows nothing of the "serpent's kiss";
Nor is she, as has late been sung,
Acquainted with "the serpent's tongue."

She is as peaceful as a dove;
Her life is given to deeds of love;
As mother, through enduring years,
She wipes from childhood's face its tears

In illness, on the fevered brow
She lays her hand—I feel it now—
And, pointing to health's upward slope,
Reveals the power of faith and hope.

She does not rudely ask the State
To be made man—at any rate;
She finds within the walls of home
Her larger Greece, her nobler Rome.

Lovely she is in every spot;
She will not be what she is not;
And him she takes, who comes to woo,
Will find her faithful, fond and true.

She knows that Nature's precious line
Goes on from her—dear and divine;
In hers without a word's dispute,
With none to be her substitute.

'Tis she who quickens mind and soul;
For years she has them in control;
And all our restless sisters quote,
Give her no wish to bawl or vote.

She is the world's true genesis,
The center and the fount of bliss;
The pattern, as the years grow ripe,
Of that which makes the Angel type.

Divinely fair, nurtured on high,
And flawless as the azure sky,
She shuns loud fame, dismisses strife,
And reigns as mother, sister, wife.

UNCLE WALT WARBURG.
BY UNCLE WALT WARBURG, OF EMPORIA.

Where grows the Sunflower?

"I say what I think," said the Tiresome Jay, as he roamed around on his futile way, and the things he said, in our common mon', weren't worth a cent and a half a ton. And folks avoided the Tiresome Jays; they saw him coming and hiked away; they hid in alleys or crawled in holes, or scrambled up to the tops of poles; for things unpleasant, and things that jolt, were sure to come when he shot his bolt. It came to pass that the Tiresome Jay struck up with Alice and Bobbie, and not a soul in the village wept when out 'neath the jimson weeds he slept, and never a citizen heaved a sigh when the fine, large hearse with its plumes went by. For our time is brief, and we've many chores, and we haven't time for the tiresome bones; and we haven't time for the man whose brain is stored with scandals, and legends vain, and we haven't time to be fooling round with the man whose sayings will leave a wound. When you go down town where the tollers sweat, say something pleasant, already yet, and hang a smile on your home-grown face, and swear this world is the smoothest place! And when you croak, all the village guys will weep till they spavin their blooming eyes.

Not Without Pain.

[London Idea]

More spinsters might marry if other women didn't marry so often.

From a woman's viewpoint a court of last resort is a divorce court.

You can make an enemy of a friend by convincing him that he's a fool.

You may have observed that satisfied people, as a rule, keep quiet about it.

Many marital difficulties can be traced to the fact that it is easier to tell a little lie than to answer a lot of questions.

Lots of men on the high tide of prosperity are stranded at low water.

If you are going to pin your faith to a woman, use a diamond pin.

Old-fashioned honesty should never be allowed to drift into the has-been class.

It is sometimes difficult to distinguish between opportunity and temptation.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 19.
REVIEW OF THE QUARTER.

FOREWORD.

We have spent a year on the greatest pieces of historical writing known in literature. The "Acts" or doings of the apostles for about thirty years immediately following the ascension of Christ have been passed in review. The progress of Christianity from the status of a Jewish sect to a cross-world-conquering body under the directing power of the Holy Spirit, has been sketched in general outline, with some vital and fascinating personal details. From its original center at Jerusalem to a new center in Antioch and later to the great cities and trading points; from the leadership of Paul to that of Paul—such has been its course. This history written by a cultured Greek is surprisingly accurate in all its allusions to the ceremonial, political, geographical, nautical and other data that comes within his range of vision. Our review covers only the period beginning with Paul's arrest about A.D. 57, ten years before his death.

In all these lessons, save several selected from letters he wrote previously, he is a prisoner, first in Palestine then at Rome.

A PRISONER IN PALESTINE.

(1.) The Arrest in Jerusalem. Acts xxii. 23.

The arrest was made by his own countrymen, not because he was a bad man, but because he was following Jesus and trying to be of service to those very people who arrested him. They hated him for ceasing to be a persecutor of Christians and becoming one himself. In fact, he was observing a Jewish custom.

When they raised a mob and arrested him, they led about him, saying that he had polluted the temple by bringing Greeks into it; they tried to drown him in the sea in the hope that the Roman garrison would capture him; they stoned him to the castle; they beat him until he fell down the stairs; they beat him until he was permitted by the officer to tell his story, and then beat him down. Finally, the soldiers were so tired of the regular method of torture for eliciting a confession, when he claimed protection as a Roman citizen.

Question: Why do the truly good have to undergo such all proportion to their natural merit?

(2.) The Shipwreck. Acts xxviii. 23.

In the midst of the storm, Paul prepared for his rescue, by telling them God has given him deliverance.

He urged them to eat, after long fasting, to lighten the ship, keep a sharp lookout for the land, cut the anchor and let go.

Duncan served in the Philippines as a member of a Tennessee regiment.

After leaving the army he came to Fresno and secured employment first on the famous Kearney ranch and later on Col. Nevill's La Favraria ranch.

About two weeks ago he left the Favraria, ostensibly to visit a neighboring ranch, but he never reached his destination.

A long search ended in the discovery of the body in the water trough.

The arms were folded across the chest and an empty pocketbook was lying on the ground nearby. No marks of violence were found on the body.

FLOGGED WITH CHAIN.

George Clum, a Russian, was convicted in Judge Graham's court yesterday on a charge of wife beating, and was sentenced to spend six months in jail and pay a fine of $50. Clum's wife appeared to confess she had lied.

She was given immunity from prosecution, but she was not aware of the nature of the commandant who hurried the prisoner away that very night to Caesarea, to the Roman Governor of the province in which Jesus was born.

Question: Is every Christian under the watchful eye and directive hand of God?

(3.) At Caesarea before Felix, the Governor. Acts xxviii.

In five days the Jews of Jerusalem were down there with an orator to prefer their charges against Paul. It looked dark to the intrepid apostle with a corrupt judge, and false charges were ready to be laid against him.

But he was not disheartened, for God had warned him that bonds and afflictions were waiting for him, and that he was destined to preach Christ in Rome, as he had so longed to do. He himself was a prisoner of the highest kind, the power of cast-iron.

He easily disproved the charges of sedition, heresy and atheism, and their voices died down.

He had no right to hold him in prison an hour longer. But he did, and for two reasons. He wanted a bribe from Paul or from his friends, and he failed to get on good terms with the Jews.

Question: Why are the Christ-like sufferings of God's people always a benefit to others?

(4.) Before Festus and Agrippa. Acts xxvi. 19-22.

For two years he was kept in prison at Caesarea, probably given more of freedom and the privilege of receiving visits from his friends and rich followers, who would bribe him to release their chief. Festus, his successor, was a better man. He refused to allow the Jews to take Paul back to Jerusalem, for he did not suspect their murderous intent.

When the new Governor questioned Paul, the latter had decided to appeal his case to the highest court, the Emperor of Rome. When Festus had written to Agrippa, King of Judea, he sent him a copy of "Our Christmas Gifts."—Matt. ii. 1-11.

By William T. Ellis.

An alert minister, discerning the tendencies of the times, should preach a valuable sermon upon "The Socializing Value of Christmas." After elaborating the world-wide spread of the socialized spirit—the spirit of giving, the love of fellowship, the love of man. In that address Paul tells the story of his conversion and call to the ministry, till all his auditors are startled. The decision of Agrippa was that Paul's cause should end right there. For this reason he was tried at Rome. God was leading the way to Rome, and it was through Paul's decision, but recently made.

Question: Was Paul so long in deciding to take the case to Rome, that it was God's decision long before?

LESSONS FROM HIS LETTERS.

(1.) His Story of His Life. II Cor. xi. 21-32.

This letter was written not very long before his arrest. It was written to defend himself from charges made against him over in Corinth, not by the unconverted Jews but by the Jewish Christians. He had the support of his wife, Armina, King of Judea, and his wife with an interview with Paul, in which the latter made an address, now regarded one of the most powerful addresses ever delivered.

Fraternity Boys Continue to Break the Law.

Boy With Bleeding Nose Is Still Missing.

Office of The Times, No. 35 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Dec. 14.—An exhibition mixed doubles tennis game will be played on the Carmelita grounds this afternoon between the greatest tennis experts in the country. Miss May Sutton, who has twice carried off the women's championship honors, will play Capt. Johnson, U.S.A., as a partner, play her sister, Miss Florence Sutton, and John Holmes. While the Sutton sisters live with their parents in Pasadena, they have never played any exhibition games here. Capt. Johnson won the championship honors in the Philippines last summer and is considered one of the best men players in the United States. He is in Pasadena for the winter. John Holmes is well known as an expert tennis player in California. A large crowd is expected to attend this afternoon. It will be the first of a series of tournament games. Manager Reyerson of the Carmelita grounds says that he has received replies from the best players in Southern California and hopes to be able to have the tournaments arranged soon after January 1. Many Pasadena people have desired for some time to see the Sutton sisters in action and particularly Miss May Sutton, who has won so many honors all over the world.

STILL BELONG.

Regardless of the fact that the Legislature passed a law prohibiting all students of the public schools belonging to fraternities and sororities, the members of the High School have learned that many of the boys still maintain their organizations in various associations. Soon after the passing of the law the girls dissolved their sororities and it was expected that the boys would do the same. At the last day of school for the fall term, Prof. Ely, principal of the High School, passed small printed slips to the students asking each pupil to sign his or her name and state whether he or she is at the present time a member of any fraternity or sorority. The officials of the schools state they did this to find out how the matter stands. A few students insist on keeping up such affiliation drastic action will be taken to compel a compliance with the law.

NO TRACE OF BOY.

Up to a late hour last night no trace had been found of Carlos Wright, the boy who disappeared during service at the Lincoln Avenue Methodist Church Sunday night. Many searching parties were busy all day yesterday endeavoring to follow up every clew. The relatives state that they have sent detectives to San Francisco to follow up the mysterious telegram received by the mother on Thursday. Many friends think that undoubtedly Carlos has gone to San Francisco and has either gone to work or else joined the army or navy. The common theory is that he sold everything which he had and a few days before he left. He is an experienced grocery clerk and as he often stated he would like to work in some other city. It is believed that he has the means to support himself and supposed that when he reached that city he wished to consult his mother and had the mysterious telegram sent to her.

GIMMEL STRIKES COONS.

John E. Coons of No. 944 Wilton Avenue, while riding south on Fair Oaks avenue yesterday on his bicycle, was thrown from his wheel and landed twenty feet away on the sidewalk, sustaining a smashed shoulder and many severe cuts and bruises about the head and back. Gimme was going north on Fair Oaks avenue and rode across the left to the right side of the road to miss a wagon when he struck Coons. One of the happy events last night was the "promenade" given by the class of the High School at the Shakespeare Clubhouse. Following the promenade the young people danced. Besides the class there were a number of invited guests, including the members of the faculty.

Mrs. Herbert C. Holt of South Maryland had a quiet afternoon yesterday afternoon in honor of her birthday. Mrs. Ratcliff of Lancaster, Ind., who is spending the winter here, The house was decorated in red and green. The afternoon was spent playing bridge. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alexander of No. 672 East Colorado street have returned from an extended visit in the East.

ENGLISH OIL VISITOR.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Reid of London, Eng., registered at the Hotel Mayfield yesterday. Mr. Reid is a prominent operator in oil and stocks in England and France, and is also interested in the California fields. They will remain at the Maryland during the season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Arnold and daughter, Lancaster, Pa.; A. B. Howell, Baltimore, Md., and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Myers of Providence, R. I., are regulars at the Maryland for the winter. They were all members of the Maryland in former winters.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Wellcome of London, Eng., have returned after a long trip which will last several weeks. They will spend the balance of the season at the Maryland, where they have many friends. Mr. Wellcome is junior member of the firm of Burroughs & Wellcome, manufacturing druggists of New York.

Mr. George H. Helting of Minneapolis, with his three children and a friend, Miss Mabel L. Hanks, have taken apartments at the Maryland for the winter.

JOHN D'S DOUBLE.

Miss Alice, prominent stock broker of Chicago, has arrived at the Maryland for the winter. Mr. Almon has the distinction of being the double of John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil king. So close is the resemblance that intimate friends have been fooled. Alice is a Jewish diamond merchant and enjoys the mistaken identity which occurs daily, especially when he is in the East. The shape of the head, the cut of the hair, the style of clothes and everything are almost exact copies of the richest man in the United States.

Won't Appear in Pasadena Tournament if Out West Hold-up is Given.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.) W.C.T.U. and Y.W.C.T.U., after having made arrangements to enter a fine float in the Tournament of Roses parade, on New Year's Day, have given notice to the officers that they will not appear if the stage hold-up exhibition is given by the Out West Riding Club. They say such exhibitions are not in harmony with the teachings of the W.C.T.U.

The officials of the Tournament of Roses Association believe that the stage hold-up scene will add greatly to the entertainment of the day, and state that it will be a feature.

SINKS IN THE OUTER HARBOR.

DREDGER TURNS TURTLE WHILE BRISK WIND BLOW.

Turilla W. Miner Comes to Grief at San Pedro—Boy Accused of Forgery—Attempt to Burglarize Safe at Terminal Island—Combination is Knocked Off, But Robbers Leave.

SAN PEDRO, Dec. 16.—The dredger Turilla W. Miner, owned by the Outer Harbor Wharf and Storage Company, capsized in the outer harbor this afternoon and sank in thirty feet of water. It is thought she had a hole accidentally punched in her bottom and, not being well ballasted, was blown over by a brisk east wind which prevailed. The extent of the injuries to the dredger cannot be ascertained until she is raised, which can only be accomplished at great expense. Her crew managed to get ashore before the dredger capsized, and no one was injured.

Willie Harkness, 17 years old, residing on Fifteenth street, was arrested this afternoon under suspicion of having stolen $100 from a local merchant this morning, signed by George Harvey, and drawn upon the First National Bank. About two years ago young Willie was sent to the reformatory school upon similar charge. An attempt was made at noon today to burglarize a small safe in the office of Capt. F. W. Miller, master of the steamer George W. Peacock, which was docked at the wharf at Terminal Island, for the National Lumber Company. The combination was knocked off the safe and an attempt made to force the bottom. The burglars were frightened away.

Public School Children at Pomona Give Interesting Programs—Fraternal Brotherhood Banquet.

POMONA, Dec. 15.—The local public schools closed here for the holiday vacation this afternoon. At the High School, the students presented an original play by Miss Guevare Mettke, head of the English department. This forenoon at the public central kindergarten on North Park avenue, the children gave a Christmas program under direction of Miss Barbara Greenwood, supervising principal, and consisted of singing, dancing and recitation. There was also a Christmas tree and distribution of presents and a visit from Santa Claus, impersonated by A. E. Tate.

The annual banquet of the Fraternal Brotherhood lodge was held at the Hotel Royal this evening. The committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of W. A. Vigrift, K. K. Fritz and H. D. Tracy. The members met at their hall and marched in a body to the tavern at 8 o'clock. Music was furnished by an orchestra. C. C. Olson acted as toastmaster, introducing Supreme President James A. Foshay, H. D. Tracy, Supreme Secretary; Dr. C. W. Pierce, Supreme Medical Director; C. A. Post, Supreme Counselor; Mrs. J. H. Cowdery, Treasurer of the local lodge and M. R. Janssen, Chaplain. The drill team, who delivered speeches. Other speakers were Dr. J. K. Swindt, F. P. Firey, A. P. Nichols, K. K. Fritz, Dr. C. G. Toland, Dr. T. J. Wilson and Dr. Savage of Chino.

REEDONDO BEACH, Dec. 15.—The Arrowhead Club will hold its annual banquet tomorrow evening at the clubhouse. These toasts will be given: "The Panama Canal," Roy W. Heath; "Political Conditions of Today as Compared with Those of Fifty Years Ago," Louis Heath; "The Growth of Los Angeles," Leonidas F. Moore; "The University," Wilson E. Abbot; "The Arrowhead Club," Elwin Lechner; "North and South Polar Expeditions," Deal Barkley.

Local baseball fans are pleased over the new arrangement whereby all big league players have been dropped from the teams of the Southern State League. No Class A players, that is, Coast or National leaguers, can play herefora for any of the teams of the Southern State League. Tomorrow the local team, which will be made up of the McCoolies and the Pasadenas, Sunday the team will play the Racines in a regular league game.

During Scare at Long Beach People Excitedly Tie Up Valuables in Bed-spreads and Sheets and Feverishly Rush Their Trunks and Suit Cases Into the Hallways.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 17.—Seventy-five guests of Hotel Riviera, at the corner of Second street and Chestnut avenue, had the scare of their lives at noon today and incidentally some lost all appetite for dinner.

Sparks from the hotel chimney set fire to some dried laundry piled on the roof. A small boy gave the alarm and while Mrs. Butterfield telephoned the fire department, her husband climbed to the roof of the three-story building with a line of garden hose and began the work of saving. The prompt arrival of the department saved the hotel from serious damage if not complete destruction, as it is of frame old and very dry. The actual damage is about $100.

Within five minutes the stairways and hallways were filled with trunks, suit cases, and parcels of all sizes, many of the guests tying up valuables in sheets and bedspreads. General excitement reigned and two women fainted.

This is the third time the hotel has been on fire.

WELCOME TO CADMUS.

The Salvation Army people are making big preparations for the reception and entertainment of Commissioner Elijah Cadman of London. He is touring America as the special representative of "Gen." Booth, and will be here January 20 and 21.

Earn Money While Over the Oregon trail in 1862 and has since made his life work one of blazing the 1060-mile trail with monuments of which he has erected twenty-two, was this morning giving permission to the book in the city. The Council donated $2 with which Meeker secured his book license.

E. S. Gunby of this city, who was in the trail west yesterday at Wyoming, was driving his team when he capsized with a wrench'd back and will be able to continue his journey to Yates Center, Kan. His wife and daughter escaped unharmed.

Claire Feltz, a maid, this morning submitted to the County at estimate of $88,239 for the permanent repairs required on the outer wharf. These will consist of a rock breakwater on the south end, with a wing on each side.

HELP TO ANSWER.

Justice Brayton yesterday held Charles Barger to the Superior Court in $500 bond to answer the charge of deadly assault with intent to murder.

The Bentley Grand, which had been damaged by a recent heavy rain tide water. This will have to be filled before an adequate system can be installed. It is, however, the opinion of ex-City Engineer Conner, who made a survey with a sewer system in view, that a system can be constructed by the extension of the drainages to a general level and then running the main line from about Seventh and East streets southwesterly to the bay.

The dredger which is recently used by the Consolidated Lumber Company will be used in filling in the goose neck strip at the foot of Fries street, which connects Mormon Island with the main land.

SOUTH PASADENA.

SOUTH PASADENA, Dec. 17.—A championship game of basketball will be played on the High School courts tomorrow afternoon between Whittier and Long Beach. It will finish the league games for the season.

Several ladies in the Oneonta Park district have joined in a plan for holding a Christmas celebration for the children of the Orphans' Home on Mission street. The affair will be given the 30th inst. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gilmore, 120 Huntington Drive. There will be gifts for each child and a programme of games and music.

Aero Club of America Says Others Applied.

Aviator Hamilton Secured to Fly Aeroplane.

DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the absence of Cortland Field Bishop, president of the Aero Club of America, and acting president, says that the meeting of the directors of the Aero Club of America will be held Wednesday, December 22, at which time the matter of sanction of Aviation Week will be taken up and settled.

The affiliated club, Aero Club of California, has applied for January dates, and in all probability sanction will be granted, with the understanding that the Aero Club of California must be responsible for the meet, and see that the various prizes are paid and conditions are carried out as advertised on entry blanks.

From present conditions, there is no doubt whatever that sanction will be granted, provided the Aero Club of California has made application to the Aero Club of America in proper form.

The entire case of the trouble is due to the fact that correspondence was entered into by the Aviation Committee with the Aero Club of America without coming through the Aero Club of California.

All members and officers of the Aero Club of America, with emphasis, have disclaimed any idea or intention of interfering with merit, sportsmanlike conduct of aviation, and will do all in their power to assist same, but feel it duty bound to protect interests of affiliated club, provided they had not been consulted in holding the meet.

People are of the impression here that this will be the greatest aviation event yet held in America. In addition to the aviators, Paulhan, the French aviator, who has made himself famous by his daring, both in high winds and great altitudes, it is likely that there will be no fewer than 200 Curtiss machines in the field.

Mr. Curtis will be in the aeroplane with which he won the trophy at Rheims, and which is now on its way to Los Angeles from Boston. C. F. Willard will fly the original Curtiss machine built for the aeronautic Society of New York. Charles K. Hamilton, one of the most popular making flights at St. Joseph, Mo., has been engaged. Clifford B. Harmon will appear as an amateur, for he is to take his first flight during the meeting in the Curtiss machine just built for him, and he will also make a balloon ascension.

A. P. Warner, who was the first private individual to purchase a Curtiss biplane, will be flying his machine throughout its territory and on the cars.

At the meeting of the Aviation Week Committee the results of a meeting of aeronautical experts, information fully covering the week and aviation matters was discussed. No book or programme will be allowed of any character, in connection with the aviation week, and the committee asks that any attempts to solicit for any such publications be reported to Secretary Zeehan.

TALK AVIATION.

CLUB WOMEN ACTIVE.

To increase civic interest in the Aviation Week contests by cooperating with the business men, a meeting of the Women's Aviation Club is to be held at the Alexandria Hotel next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Prominent club women of the city have been asked to attend the session to aid in the formation of a strong working organization among the women of the city. Plans for aiding in the publicity of the aviation contests will be considered at the meeting.

Mrs. Dick Ferris is to recruit her experiences in balloon trip, and is also to present a plan for holding a monster theatrical benefit to raise funds for Aviation Week. Prominent members of the Women's Aviation Club are Mrs. John D. Rennick, president; Mrs. George H. McNamee, vice-president; Mrs. Sidney Lee Grover, third vice-president; Mrs. G. H. McGinnis, treasurer; Miss Jessie M. Flint, secretary.

Benefit Matines.

A feature of the aviation fund benefit performance of "The Toymakers" will be given by Pauline Farwell for the matinee performance at the Grand Opera House on Thursday, will be the appearance of Charles Farwell Edison, president of the Gamut Club and a popular host, and the production of "The Fireman's Mate." The sale of seats will open this morning and it is expected that before the box office closes on Monday night the entire house will be practically sold out.

The Boston Chamber of Commerce will lend its aid, and many of the business and railroads men have already started to pull wires to bring the event to New England. We will certainly make a big hit to the International Aeronautic Federation, and make such a bid that the federation will give the world's greatest air pilots to this section.

Alfred R. Shridley, secretary of the New England club, said today:

"We are going to act as quick as they can in Los Angeles, and I am sure we will do so. I cannot state how much it will be, but undoubtedly it will exceed that of Los Angeles, on account of the competition."

"A site for the big event has already been selected, and the New England team truck at Salem, N. H., is being considered as the most likely choice of the club."

The Boston Chamber of Commerce will lend its aid, and many of the business and railroads men have already started to pull wires to bring the event to New England. We will certainly make a big hit to the International Aeronautic Federation, and feel confident of winning."

The feature which will be offered will be no less than the world's greatest aviators, like Blériot, Curtiss and others, will not feel like disregarding them.

Conditions are good in this section for a meet, and the financial and commercial advantages derived from such an affair by the people will force everybody into the fight with us to beat out New York and other eastern cities."

HAMILTON COMING.

COMMITTEE GUARANTEES.

Another aviator who has been remarkably successful with a Curtiss biplane will probably be secured by the Aviation Week Committee, the Executive Committee, it is Charles Hamilton, whose services were offered by telegram last night at a guarantee, which Dick Ferris and F. J. Zeehan believe is desirable.

Hamilton has been making good flights at Lake Contrary, near St. Joseph, Mo., this month. Several of his flights there were made in a genuine winter gale. He has been successful elsewhere, and he is to succeed Glenn H. Curtiss in making exhibition flights for the Curtiss-Herring company.

Hamilton's participation in the Los Angeles meet, Curtiss will make no more biplane flights, except to defend his title as the world's champion aviator at the international competition in this country next year. His appearance at Los Angeles will be one of a very few chances to see him do what the aeroplane he has invented, as he will devote his time to the business interests of his company.

The Aviation Week Committee will decide today on paying the sum necessary to add Hamilton to the list of aviators who will be at Los Angeles for daily flights, January 10 to 20. If a contract is made with him, it will make a total of seven aeroplanes.

He has already been flown for the Los Angeles meet, with a possibility of six others from the East, as well as the eight promised by Pacific Slope entrants.

ALL DOUBT GONE.

CITIZENS WAKING UP.

"No doubt remains as to the possibility of raising $100,000 guarantee fund," said F. J. Zeehan, secretary of the Aviation Week Committee, after the meeting yesterday. "There is every assurance that the necessary funds will be forthcoming in time and the name of some will be made a roll of honor. It may be possible that some who may desire to have their names placed thereon may find it better before they get their subscription in. However, the public will greatly appreciate voluntary subscriptions at the offices of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association in the Wilcox building, for the quicker the funds are made available the more time the members have for arranging the details of the meet itself."

Members of the committee explained yesterday to the California Club and Union League Club what an amount of money means and in both instances they were told their auditors had no idea it was so big a thing. It will bring thousands of persons here who would not otherwise come.
